POULTRY

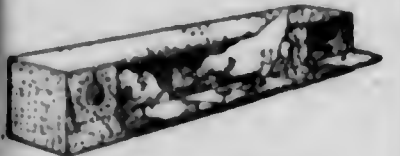

EXCELLENT NESTS FOR HENS

Those Made of Metal Have Much to Commend Them on Ground of Cleanliness and Sanitation.

The use of metal and concrete in the construction of all kinds of buildings is gaining rapidly in popularity. We see it not only in our houses, but in the modern dairy barns and poultry houses. This is brought about on grounds of economy and efficiency; metal is stronger, wears longer, occupies less space, is immune to fire and inimical to insect life and disease. For the latter reason its use appeals strongly to the poultry breeder.

Metal perches, nests, and even houses have much to commend them on grounds of cleanliness and good sanitation. Especially is this true of metal nests, a row of which is shown in the illustration. Of all contrivances the wooden box has proved itself the home of lice and mites; its crevices and cracks are the delight of these pestiferous enemies of fowl life. To be sure the nesting material can be changed and burned, the box sprayed or fumigated, but in spite of all precaution a few stray specimens will escape in some crack or crevice in the wood. With the metal nest this is certainly not possible. The only chance of infection is from the bird itself to the nesting material, which is of minor consequence, unless a lousy hen happens to precede a clean one in occupying the nest.

Metal nests come in several patterns. One style is for hanging on the wall, from which it can be easily removed and cleaned. Others are made in combination as shown in the illustration, also in singles and in pairs and trios. For shipping they are knocked down; their construction is such that no rivets or solder is required to set them up ready for use.

Galvanized iron coops have long been a feature of eastern and European shows, and we can see no reason why metal houses will not prove equally desirable. Where tried, breeders claim them a success.

HELP IN POULTRY CHOLERA

Important Experiments With Serum Depend Upon Live Material—Specimens Arrive Dead.

Can poultry cholera be prevented by injecting serum into the diseased fowls? The serum method of treatment prevents cholera in hogs, and if the case is in its first stages, will cure it. But will serum work equally well in combating the disease when contracted by fowls? This is what F. B. Jacoby, of the poultry department, and W. K. Stouder, of the veterinary department of the Kansas State Agricultural college, are eager to know. Of course they will use a different kind of serum, suited to the differences between cholera in hogs and in poultry.

Inability to get diseased fowls to operate upon is retarding the progress of experiments now being conducted to investigate this question. Mr. Jacoby and Doctor Stouder wish to communicate with owners of flocks where the disease has started. The only fowls received up to the present died in transit. Few fowls live more than three days after contracting the disease. If they are not started to the college in the early stages of the disease they are likely to arrive in a worthless condition for the experiment.

Grow Laying Hens.

If you want hens that will lay, now is the time to begin to grow them. Secure eggs of some of the standard laying breeds and raise some chicks as early as possible this spring. Next fall they will be ready for business. Do not expect heavy laying from non-laying breeds.

The body of a woman was found in the Mississippi river below Columbus Monday. We understand that the condition of the body indicated murder and not drowning as the cause of the woman's death. A coroner's inquest was held at Columbus and the body was buried in the potter's field.—Columbus Gazette.

The little 5-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Bluer became desperately ill and Dr. Adkerson was sent for. The child was livid all over, the pupils of the eyes highly dilated. Suspecting poison, the doctor emeticated the child and it threw up two or three double hand-fuls of Jimson weed leaves. It had eaten the whole bunch—hull, seed, prickles and all. It soon got better. If you don't believe it, call on Ollie Bluer, at Union City.—Union City News-Banner.

Home Comfort Assured by Using Cole's Original Hot Blast

It means comfort and health for you and your family to have comfortable living rooms—

We want to sell you one of these truly marvelous heaters—

We know it will give you more home comfort for the money you spend for fuel, than you have ever had before—

The same comfort you would get from the most costly Hot Water or Steam Heating Plant you could buy. And besides—Cole's Hot Blast Heater is better because you can regulate it perfectly—Cole's Hot Blast Heater gives a steady even heat day and night using for fuel the cheapest grades of soft coal. It is as clean as the highest priced Hard Coal Heater and costs you less than half the money—costs less than half to operate throughout the winter because your fuel bill will be cut in two. Surely this is the Heater you want and will have this winter.

This Original Hot Blast Stove has patented features which insure an everlasting air-tight and gas-tight construction. No leaky stove will hold fire—remember that.

Cole's Patented Hot Blast Draft insures perfect burning of the gases in coal which makes this heater the greatest fuel saver ever known. Soft coal is half gas and is wasted with other stoves.

We are authorized by the Cole Manufacturing Co. to sell this heater on the most rigid guarantee ever made by any stove manufacturer. The Remarkable Guarantee is—

- 1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- 2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
- 3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- 4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.

- 5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
 - 6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
 - 7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.
 - 8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.
- All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.
- (Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Not Inc.
(Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

Think what this economy of fuel means to you. Think of the comfort—no kindling or rebuilding of the fire in the morning. Simply open the draft. You live in an even temperature which means health to your family. Uneven temperature means colds or worse.

Burns any kind of fuel—Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Slack, Lignite or Wood.

Over 60,000 of Cole's Hot Blast Heaters sold during the year of 1909.

NEW COTTON GIN.

Will be erected at Dorena.
Work Begins Today.

Work will begin today on the erection of a cotton gin at Dorena, which is designed to take care of the cotton raised in the county across the river.

The gin is some kind of a "union" proposition. We understand the farmer will carry his cotton to the new gin, have it ginned, shipped to Memphis, and there it will be held in storage for him until the price goes up to 14c, then it will be sold. The planter will receive at the time the cotton is ginned 85 per cent of the 14c, this amount being advanced by the organization. The remainder is to be paid at the time the cotton is

The monster towboat, Sprague, passed Hickman Tuesday night. She sank twelve boats and one large of coal at Sisters Island near Paducah. This was the cause of the half a dozen tows being tied up above Sisters Monday but the channel has been cleared and the tows are coming down. The sunken boats and one large contained over 12,000 tons of coal and will probably be a total loss. The tow was made up ten boats wide and contained a large number of barges. The tow was grounded at Sisters and some of the boats sank in the channel. The Gleaner of the West Kentucky Coal Company with 32 barges was about a half a mile behind the Sprague when she grounded her tow. The Gleaner managed to pass without accident.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Farm and Factory Share Export Gain

WASHINGTON.—The farmer and the manufacturer shared about equal-ly in the remarkable growth in ex-ports which characterized the fiscal year recently ended. The total in-crease was $304,000,000 when com-pared with the immediately preceding year, being a larger gain than ever before shown in a single year of our export trade.

Of this gain manufacturers as a whole supplied $140,000,000; cotton about $135,000,000, meats and dairy products about $19,000,000; corn, $10,000,000; food animals, $1,500,000; flour, about $2,500,000, while wheat shows a marked decline.

Cotton is king in the exports of products of agriculture, the value ex-ported during the year being $185,000,000 in 1910, by far the largest total ever shown in the cotton export trade, against $145,000,000 in 1910 and $181,000,000 in 1907, the former high record year.

Meat and dairy products show a total of about $150,000,000, against $131,000,000 last year, but materially less than in certain earlier years, in which the total ranged as high as $202,000,000 in 1907 and $211,000,000 in 1906.

Food animals show a total of $13,000,000, against a little less than $12,000,000 last year, but much below the figures of earlier years, when the total figures of food animals exceeded $43,000,000 in the high record of 1906.

Flour amounted to about $50,000,000 in value, against $17,500,000 last year, but much less than in certain earlier years, the high record in flour exports in 1893 showing a total of $78,500,000.

In manufactures ready for con-sumption is about $100,000,000, and in the group "manufactures for further use in manufacturing" the increase is $40,000,000. The increase in manufac-tures is apparent in a large number of articles. Agricultural implements, as a whole, show an increase of about $5,000,000.

Corporations Find Tax Law Is Strict

W HILE the treasury department is not disposed to be unduly harsh with these corporations which have failed to file their returns within the specified time under the corporation tax law, provided the failure has not been due to a deliberate attempt to evade the statute, at the same time it is not given much leeway under the terms of the act.

That is why several bills have been introduced in congress for the purpose of relieving delinquent corporations from the penalties of the law for the current year. Just why there should be so many delinquents it is hard to understand, because this is the second year that the law has been in force, and the government officials think cor-porations and their officers ought to be familiar with its provisions by this time.

The commissioner of internal re-venue, who collects the corporation tax, is busy sending out letters to cor-porations and persons who write to learn how they can be relieved of the pen-al-ties imposed by the law. He does not give them much encouragement, for the statute is stringent.

When a corporation neglects to make its return March 1, 50 per cent is added automatically to the amount of the tax. This cannot be remitted by the commissioner, because the law specifically prescribes it. But in addition to this increase of the tax a cor-poration may also be fined for its neg-lect. This fine is in the discretion of the commissioner, and the law says it shall not be less than $1,000 or more than $10,000. Cases of fraud are pun-ished more severely. The tax is doubled, and in addition to that the officer of a corporation who makes a false return may be convicted of a misdemeanor, fined $1,000 and sent to jail for a year.

There are thousands of delinquent corporations in most internal revenue districts. Through their representa-tives they are beseeching the treasury department for lenient treatment. The best that most of them expect is to be relieved of the fine.

Spy Charge Arouses Army Officials

T HE war department for the first time in many years has a case of an alleged spy in the army. Capt. James Watson, the army recruiting officer at Indianapolis, Ind., has in-formed the department that he holds affidavits charging Private George Peters with being an Austrian secret agent.

One of the papers in the possession of Captain Watson is an affidavit of Miss Clara A. Dyer. She said Peters was stationed at Fort Totten, N. Y., in the 135th company, Coast artillery corps, and that he was an Austrian spy sent to the United States to obtain the secret of manufacturing the pow-erful explosive used by the United States government. Miss Dyer as-serted she had become engaged to Pe-ters. The girl turned over a number of letters, in which he told of his plans. Peters' real name, she said, was Count Windisch-Gratz and his home is at Prague, Bohemia.

The country probably will keep tranquil in the face of the report that this Austrian spy has been examining its defenses and offenses for five years as a private in the army ranks. He is a fine specimen of the stable-mind-ed spy. He gave the first fruits of his labors into the keeping of a woman.

It cannot be conceived what Austria wants with maps of our forts and with rosters of our regiments.

It is suggested that the spy in the ranks, whose "steady company" gave him away, wants to learn how to make dynamite, our most powerful explosive. He has been serving at posts where he neither make dynamite nor use it. Moreover, we have a well-defined thought that the inventor of the dead-ly stuff, Colonel Beverly W. Dunn, has safeguarded his secret. Colonel Dunn is a veteran of thirty-two years' active service. He has thought enough of the country and the army to give two sons into their keeping. Private George Peters, or Prince Windisch-Gratz, whichever he is, has some-thing to do when he tries to undo Dunn.

Danger in Dishonest Soda Fountains

T HE soda water fountain is as great a menace to femininity, in many cases, as the barroom to masculinity, according to Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the government pure food and drug expert. Let it be understood that Dr. Wiley is not defending the barroom. While not a prohibitionist, he is "ter-ris-t" strong drink, and has said so officially numerous times.

Dr. Wiley is not opposed to soda water in itself, nor to the gayly be-decked fountains from which it issues. He is strongly opposed to dangerous ingredients which are hidden in the foam-covered glasses which are hand-ed out to young and old alike.

"I am a friend of the soda water man," Dr. Wiley said. "The honest soda water man who sells real soda water is a godsend today. I would not part with him for the world. It's the man who sells injurious chemi-cals and habit-producing drugs in soda water glasses to whom I am op-posed and whom I would like to see driven out of business."

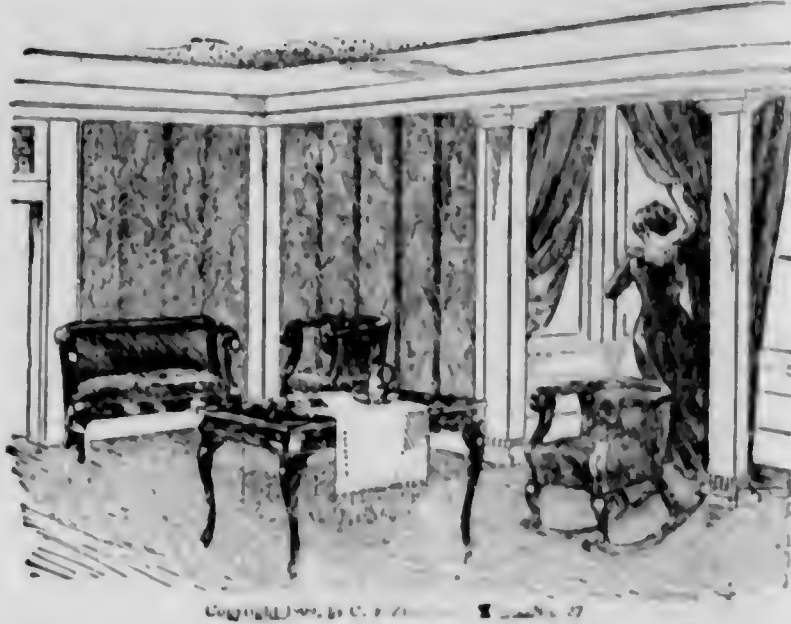

"To be pure and healthy, soda wa-ter should contain three ingredients—pure fruit flavors, pure carbonated water and sugar, not saccharin or some other injurious sweetening. To sell flavors that are made of chemicals instead of fruits is criminal. To begin with, what is soda water? First of all, soda water does not and is not supposed to contain any soda. The name is a misnomer. A great deal of the stuff that is sold under the name of soda water contains saccharin instead of sugar. That should be pro-hibited by law. Saccharin is injurious to every one and affects children seri-ously. Much of the carbonated water that is mixed with the flavors con-tains lead. Such a mixture should be prohibited by law. A great per-centage of the flavor is made of var-ious kinds of chemicals, all of which are more or less injurious.

"Caffeine, which is being used so generally by many unscrupulous soft drink dispensers, should be driven from the market by law. Its effects, especially on young people, compares with the effect of cocaine and mor-phine."

NEW ELECTRIC R. R. Will Probably Go Through Ballard County.

Not only will an electric interurban line be started from Paducah towards Mayfield, Union City, Clinton and Hickman, but a belt line will be run from near Milltown probably to Lowkesville, thence to Bradyville, to Wickliffe, and from Wickliffe back to Paducah, according to the statement by an official of the Kentucky
Southwestern Railway Electric Light and Power Company Saturday. The exact route that this belt line will take has not been decided, but the more thickly populated section of north Ballard county will be tapped.

Letters from cities and towns that lie near the projected routes are pouring into the office of the company asking the officials of the interurban company to meet with prominent merchants, professional men or officials of commercial clubs with a view of getting the routes changed so as to include their towns. Whether the line will take a more direct line to Hickman and Union City than by Clinton and Columbus depends upon the reports of the engineers and the estimates that they will make of the cost of the several routes. The main factor that will be taken into account, however, is the liveliness and progressiveness of the communities in the various sections through which the road will pass.

It was definitely stated by an official of the company that the road would be equipped for heavy freight service, with heavy rails, standard gauge equipment, and General Electric locomotives. Bridges will be constructed across the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers so that fast freight, express and passenger service can be given to and from all points on the line, and through freights can be hauled through the terminal connections.

It was official stated that at least four million dollars of outside capital would be brought into this neighborhood for the construction and equipment of this project. What this means to business men and local prosperity, is not hard to guess, and Hickman's business men should help push the good work along.

Black-headed and rose-breasted grosbeaks. (Upper figure, black-headed grosbeaks, male and female; lower figure, rose-breasted grosbeaks, male and female.)

KILL MANY INSECTS

Little Grosbeaks Wage Unceasing War on Injurious Bugs.

Investigations Prove That This Breed of Birds Destroy Many Pests and Are Invaluable Friend of the Farmer.

(By W. T. MATEE, Assistant Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture.)

The grosbeaks take their name from their big beaks, and they are great eaters of insects and slugs which injure plants. Some objection has been made to them on the score that they eat seed grain, but where it is drilled this objection does not amount to much, as present-day planters cover the grain effectually.

With grain under other conditions the damage done by the grosbeaks is much more than repaid by the insects they kill.

The rose-breasted and black-headed grosbeaks eat peas, and the latter eat green beans, also. Experience shows that a scarecrow suffices to ward off the rose-breast, but the black-head appears less easily intimidated. In localities where the birds are abundant bird netting used as a cover is effective and is advised for small patches.

Planting wild fruit is important for the purpose of attracting birds. The following are valuable: Dogwoods, hollies, juniper, bayberry, Virginia creeper, blueberries, blackberries and wild grapes. Not all the thickets on a farm should be removed, since they serve to harbor birds, to protect them from enemies and to furnish nesting sites. Where thickets are lacking, the growth of artificial ones should be encouraged, for they are very attractive to grosbeaks, particularly to the cardinal.

Standing grain may be insured against the attacks of small birds by planting a few rows of millet on the edges of the field. Millet is a prime favorite with all grain-eating birds and should be sown so as to ripen at the time the grain is exposed to damage.

A permanent drinking and bathing place on the farm and in the garden is to be numbered among the most potent attractions for birds, and with a little ingenuity one can be prepared in almost any locality. Winter feeding serves to attract the cardinal, which relishes corn, sunflower and other seed, and take kindly even to table scraps. Unquestionably, if the number of birds is to be materially increased, measures must be taken to dispose of roving cats. Grosbeaks are usually able to defend themselves and their nests against the English sparrow, but for the sake of other small birds the numbers of this foreign pest should be materially reduced.

Present indications prove that the services of grosbeaks in destroying insect pests are invaluable. Each kind pays special attention to certain pests which if unchecked would cause enormous losses. Few of our birds are to be credited with more good and with fewer evil deeds than the grosbeaks, and none more clearly deserve protection by the practical farmer.

Corn Culture.

In the cultivation of corn, after planting, I use the weeder until the plants are two or three inches high, says a writer in an exchange; then begin with the wheel cultivator, using the plant shields, and cultivate at least once a week until the plants are about a foot high, then remove the plant shields and cultivate again and you will not injure your corn, but will bury the weeds, and by so doing there is no hand work.

"TESS and TED" School Shoes

The "Star Brand" Shoe people of St. Louis, already world famous because of their rapid growth, have recently placed on the market a new line of School Shoes, which is known as "Tess and Ted" School Shoes, the word being derived from the word "tested," meaning that these shoes were thoroughly tested before being placed on the market.

The Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co. have never been known to do anything by halves, and they have taken special pains with this new line of shoes for children.

Many years ago they realized that it was a crime to cripple children's feet with ill-fitting clumsy shoes. So they employed experts on children's shoemaking from all over the country.

That was several years ago. All these years these experts in shoemaking have been experimenting to get the lasts just right, to find methods of manufacturing which would make the shoes lighter, yet stronger, to find ways of making shoes cheaper, to get the right kinds of leather; in short, the idea was to make a School Shoe that is as near perfection as leather shoes can be made.

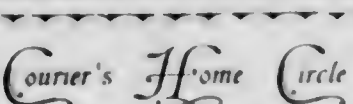

Recently they decided that they had the right combination and began to manufacture and sell

SMITH & AMBERG

Love is the great homemaker, that makes even drudgery of housekeeping a pleasure, and home life a foretaste of the bliss of heaven. One cannot get too much love into one's homemaking, but easily too little.

There is no such thing as man's rights and woman's rights separate and distinct from each other. Woman's rights are simply human rights. The sexes belong to each other; what benefits one helps the other, what elevates either uplifts both. Man is the outdoor and woman the indoor partner in the firm of humanity.

If you want to be happy forget yourselves and think of some one else and if possible do something for someone else. Read to an old lady; send a bunch of flowers to a sick friend; dry the tears of a lonely child; say a kind word to a poor discouraged washerwoman; speak with a voice which shames the whine and whimper of another.

Fathers now basking in the sunset of life may not readily recall all their early experiences in life, their struggles and triumphs of their childhood home, the playhouses they helped their sisters build are photographed upon the heart's tablet and will never fade away. The golden light of eternity will not dim the brightness of this picture. One will never forget the place of his birth, the little broken cart, the sled and kite, and the older brother who led the way to the hillside where the fairest wild flowers bloomed. These sacred memories will never grow less bright or dim with age.

There should be no day in our lives that did not record some act of kindness, some help held out to the needy. One self-denying act or some kind word, or a pleasant glance, has fallen like sunshine or eased an aching heart. There is no act intended to help another, too small for the Master's notice. It is the conscious attention to what the world calls little things that makes the great beauty and success in life.

Let our homes be places of love, joy and brightest sunshine, places of enduring love that can last the wedding day, and which produces a life of one long unbroken honeymoon, the molding place of character, a place where the child breathes an atmosphere perfumed by the choicest flowers of heaven, where it finds the greatest earthly security in mother's loving, fostering care.

How often is a fine nature warped, a really good disposition spoiled by the omission of a few timely words of encouragement. A child receiving nothing but blame and constant scolding, in time becomes deaf to correction, sullen and defiant, and in the end one of those children who neither hears nor heeds. On the other hand a child that is occasionally encouraged, is proud of pleasing another, consequently is pleased with himself and urged to renew exertions to gain a repetition of that praise so dear to the human heart, be that heart young or old.

A model husband may be a day laborer who returns to his home at night with a hard earned dollar clasped in his honest hand, and adds it to the family fund to be used to provide necessary comforts for the family. He shares faithfully with his wife whatever he may earn by trade or profession. When business matters perplex he does not go home with a woe-filled tale of his hardships and turn the bright side of his character to his associates, but he comes into his home with a cheerful face that inspires his wife with new courage after a day of perplexing duties which women alone have to meet, and in their monotony become distasteful to the most patient of them.

The ethics of home correspond in large measure with ethics of society.

All these virtues which are crowed jewels of the highest civilization have their inception in the home. The glory and charm of womanhood and motherhood, the meekness of character which gives distinctiveness and beauty to childhood and youth, the adjustments of personal and domestic relations within the home, the education of the impulses, kindled the capabilities and growing powers of children, all fall within the power of home ethics. Nowhere else can the abstract virtues of practical duties be more touchingly disclosed. Honesty, fidelity to trusts, truthfulness, courage, true dignity, the lesser virtues as well as the finer and nobler instances of life, must revert to home training for their proper and lasting incubation.

Double Protection

Fire departments are necessary and have much property, but they cannot be relied upon always. Although they may put out the fire, water may do as much damage as the fire. Fire insurance protects you against the loss by fire as well as the loss by water damage. A fire insurance policy in a reliable company with a reputation for fair dealing and promptness is your best protection. We represent only such companies.

HOGWALLOW HAPPENINGS.

Poke Bailey came within twenty-five cents of buying a good buggy, this week.

Jefferson Potlocks is fixing to have his feet washed at the Hog Ford foot washing next Sunday.

The Hog Ford congregation surprised their pastor yesterday with a nice frying sized chicken.

Things have been so quiet around Hogwallow this week that all the smoke has gone straight up.

The Hogwallow Improvement Society Announces with much pride that we are soon to have a new moon.

The floor of the Hogwallow postoffice sags so much on one side the postmaster has had to build up the sides on one side of his shoes.

The Deputy Constable has added a spyglass attachment to his lantern, and contemplates doing some very fine detective work the coming fall and winter.

While passing through a dark strip of woods near the Gilet Creek bridge the other night Fletcher Henstep was held up by two masked men and robbed of a fine twist of chewing tobacco.

Pat Smith, who so successfully operates the moonshine still on Musket Ridge, has requested us to notify his patrons around Hogwallow that hereafter all barrels must be returned as soon as empty.

Yam Sims and Sidney Hooks swapped horses at the forks of the road Thursday after a two-hours deliberation and general inspection, together with a mass of doubtful statements. They traded even, each giving five dollars to boot.

Cricket Hicks has returned from the Gulf Ribs section, where for two days he held down an important and lucrative position at a sorghum mill. He has not yet decided what work he will engage in in the future, but will first take a needed rest of two or three months.

Prof. Sap Spradlen made a flying trip to Tickville last week, where he made a trade for a globe map of the world. He will use this in his arguments with the trustees of the Wild Onion school that the world is round. In the past he has been teaching the flat system, using the flat maps of the blue back geography. The globe secured by the teacher is rather old,

KENTUCKY STATE NOTES.

Items Gathered From Over The State.

Frankfort.—Dr. A. J. Payne, government sheep inspector, announced that the live stock sanitary board had amended the rules providing that sheep may be shipped into Kentucky for exhibit at the state fair without dipping. They will be under the supervision of government inspectors, and will be kept in stock pens separate and apart from Kentucky sheep. As a result there will be no danger from infection of scabbies to Kentucky sheep exhibitors.

"Back to the Farm."

Strikingly illustrative of the argument that "the back to the farm" movement should be inaugurated, were statistics made public by the census bureau indicating that during the last ten years the percentage of increase in number of farms has fallen far behind that of the increase in population. Not since 1850 has the percentage of increase been so small.

According to the census bureau, during the ten-year period, beginning in 1900, the population of the nation increased 21 per cent. During the same decade the number of farms increased from 5,737,372 to 6,340,357, only 10.5 per cent.

Most remarkable, however, was the showing of the increase in the value of the farms. Farm land, exclusive of farm buildings, was valued at $13,058,008,000 in 1900. In 1910 it was worth $28,285,770,000, an advance of 117 per cent. The size of farms has increased, according to returns.

A big advance was noted in the value of farm buildings and implements. Hired labor in 1910 absorbed $345,612,000, an increase of 80 per cent over 1900. Sixty-six per cent of all farms were reported "free of debt."

Junior Order at Covington for Next Convention.

Officers for the Junior Order of American Mechanics of Kentucky for the ensuing year were elected: Harvey Mitchell, Heart, councillor; Omer Stubbs, Ludlow, vice councillor; L. W. Phillips, Covington, treasurer; R. W. Harbin, London, conductor; Thomas Boone, Winchester, warden; A. H. Glone, Dayton, inside sentinel; J. D. Hunter, Cannell City, chaplain. The next meeting will be held at Covington in September, 1912. The most important action taken by the grand council was the determination to select a state organizer, to receive a salary of $2,000, and will be elected by the five most important state officers.

The state railroad commission certified to the claim of the Vanceburg & Stouts Lane Turnpike against C. & O. Railroad Co., and ordered the railroad company to pay its pro rata of taxes due for the maintenance of the turnpike. The case was an appeal from Lewis county. The railroad company refused payment of taxes, alleging that the turnpike was a private road and not a public thoroughfare.

The County Clerks' association of Kentucky held their annual meeting here and elected the following officers: Crawford Lee, Frankfort, president; W. T. Mills, Madisonville, secretary; S. T. Breathitt, Newcastle, treasurer.

The address of welcome was delivered by Attorney Leslie Morris, and the response was made by Gus G. Singleton, of Paducah.

State Inspector and Examiner McKensie R. Todd delivered addresses on the subject of "Uniform System of Bookkeeping for All Counties," and urged the association to recommend to the legislature that the system be adopted. The recapitulation of assessors' books was another important subject under discussion.

Scottsville.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed four business houses, three dwellings, the Presbyterian church, the telephone exchange and the Carver hotel. The fire started in Garrison's grocery store, and fanned by a brisk wind, could not be controlled until it burned out an entire block.

Kentucky marksmen who composed the state rifle team which was in the national match at Camp Perry, Ohio, have returned home much disappointed because they did not finish better. They would have finished well up with the others but for the fact that they were penalized a large number of points because their marker, who was to be in the rifle pits, failed to report for duty on the day that the team shot.

Just after winning the last ring at the Capital fair with his favorite saddle horse, Russell Ralley, one of the best-known horsemen in Kentucky, dropped dead on the street here. As he rode from the ring after winning the blue tie with Golden Glow, Mr. Ralley remarked to one of his friends: "I hope I meet Golden Glow in heaven." In twenty minutes after he made this remark he was dead.

Greenville.—Two men entered the store of W. A. Young and took $50 and a pistol.

NEW BUSINESS VENTURE

Wood Yard Will Be Opened in West Hickman.

J. S. Mosler has reached the conclusion that a good wood yard in Hickman would be a paying investment and will establish such a business in West Hickman next week.

The location of this concern will be west of the C. M. & G. railroad, behind the government levee. He will have his wood all shipped in over the new railroad.

Past experience teaches us that Hickman needs a wood yard. In winter it is nothing uncommon to experience a wood famine, and the new yard should prove a boon in this respect as well as a good business proposition for Mr. Mosler.

Every wife should be a helpmate to her husband. For instance, if you have the pleasure of a large washing before you and he has the laborious task of going to the city, or taking a trip through the country, change work with him, let him help you wash in the forenoon and you help him ride in the afternoon. A good wife will deny herself to entertain her husband, especially on wash day. But some men will say, "When I come down to that I'll hire it done." We find no fault with hiring it done, but as to coming down to help a woman, my dear sir, who created you so far above a woman that you have to condescend to come down? We know the Bible says that "the husband shall be the head of the household," but it also says that "the wife shall be a crown to him," and you know the crown is a little higher and just above the head. Such being the case come up, gentlemen, on a level with your wives and assist in the home whenever you can do so without infringing upon larger and more important duties.

The Presbyterian church is to have a new preacher, young stockton, son of the present pastor W. H. Stockton. He arrived Sunday night and weighs 195 pounds.

Mrs. Frank Horton, who has been visiting J. R. Brown and family, left Saturday morning for a short visit in Union City before returning to her home in Berule, Mo.

Judge F. S. Moore returned Friday night from Louisville, where he has been in the hospital for the past six weeks. The judge says Hickman looks good to him. We are glad to see him home again.

SENTENCED TO PEN.

Five Livingston County
Riders Will Pay For Fun.

For the second time since the three trouble started nine years ago, convictions have been secured in the Livingston circuit court against the framers charged with "banding" and "foraging" and conspiring together to injure the property or body of another. The alleged night riders are Woodson, John George and Lee Crawford, all brothers and sons of Robinson. The five were accused of destroying the home of Bond Wright, about eight miles from Hickman, on the night of March 23, 1911. Previously Wright's barn had been burned and he had been warned to leave the state.

The five men denied the charges from the first. Attempts were made to establish alibi for them, but only impression those made on the jury was that sentence was held the minimum of one year.

The case was hotly fought from beginning to end. A great deal of interest had been shown over the trial and other convictions are expected to grow out of the result.

The only other conviction of a banding night rider occurred when Thompson was sent to the pen for one year from that case.

A new trial was asked for and appeal taken if the motion is granted. These cases are looked upon somewhat as test cases.

BRADLEY & PARHAM

"Are you folks going to be all day with that prescription?" demanded a man who had been waiting just ten minutes in Helm & Ellison's.

"The first place I had it filled it took just five minutes. Guess I don't know your business?"

We get that once in a while. It is the discourteous penalty of a bad patient, of seeing well.

The man's prescription was an eye ointment that had to be rubbed. The medicinal part of it was a poison, if improperly used, but a healing agent if properly worked up into the ointment and evenly rubbed. Didn't you see how the whole prescription depended on the judgment and skill of the pharmacist who had it in hand?

"Five minutes."

Sure it could be carelessly done in that time, and perhaps the patient would pay for the haste with sore eyes for years to come.

So we took our time, and in the preparation of medicines we all take enough time to do the work properly.

Which do you prefer? The druggist who gets a reputation of being able to turn out a large number of prescriptions per hour, or a druggist who has no set time allotted for any particular prescription, but enough hours or minutes to do the work WELL."

We don't strive for speed records in Helm & Ellison's prescription departments.

We are after accuracy.

May we have your prescription business?

NEGRO KILLED On Boat Above Town. Body Thrown Overboard.

The steamer, Stacker Lee, had Thursday evening at the wharf at Lockport, before lowering her anchor, when a negro man was seen to be on the boat, and turned over a negro man to the police.

The packet turned the head just as the Steamer, five minutes before, was lowering her anchor. A negro man was seen to be on the lower deck, which resulted in the constable cutting the throat of another negro in a trap game. The man on the head with a blue coat and pants, him overboard into the river. The negro killed was a young man, a traveling man, was also a negro, but his name was not known. The clothes were well spotted with blood from the frocks.

Gen. Sheriff Hall of Thompsonville, who was on the boat, arrested the constable and had him taken into custody. The constable was taken into custody and put in jail here to await the action of the grand jury. There is a question as to whether the negro will be tried for murder, whether in Missouri or Kentucky, as it is not known here which side of the river they were on when the man on the Missouri or the Kentucky side.

An attempt was made to secure the body, thrown overboard, but no trace of it was seen up to this time.

AVIATORS COMING Will Pass Hickman on Great River Event.

A prize aeroplane flight is being arranged between the cities along the Mississippi river, and its successful consummation is already assured, as $13,000 of the $20,000 has already been subscribed.

The plan is to give the $20,000 to the aviator who makes the best time from Minneapolis to New Orleans, the course being over the river the entire distance. This, as a matter of fact, puts Hickman on the route of the big event.

The principal object of the flight is to secure publicity for the Mississippi valley cities and also to boost the deep waterways projects. The convention will be held in Chicago in October, and if possible the start will be made either before or while the convention is in session.

Aviators are enthusiastic over the chance to win the glory—and incidentally the money—which will be awarded to the winner.

Whether the event will be in the nature of a race with several aviators competing or simply as a single flight has not yet been decided upon. If a race it is certain that such aviators as Alcock, Hamilton and Ward of the Innes-Wright team; Bendley, Witmer, Ely of the Curtiss team; McChesney, who has a powerful new speed machine, and probably Claude Graham White, Earl L. Livingston and Tom Sopwith would enter.

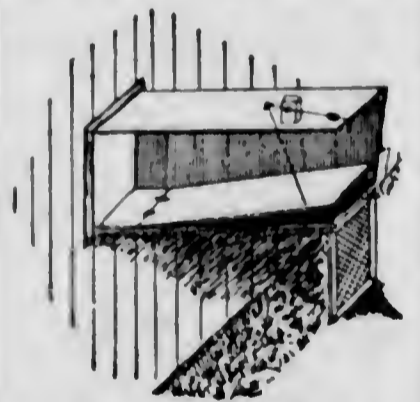

This does not mean that all of the contestants would fly biplanes, however, as Earl L. Livingston would use his Blériot in preference to his Curtiss on such a long jaunt. Then, too, White is using a Nieuport monoplane and Arthur Stone of the Queen Company flying a copy of the Blériot cross channel machine used by the late John H. Moberg. Courier readers will be given the exact date and final arrangements in due time.

Mrs. J. R. Brown, Miss Annie Lee Brown, Mrs. W. J. Barry and children and Ben Walker, Mrs. Alex. Barnes and children, Mrs. E. E. Reeves and little son, Russell Johnson, Dr. Hubbard and family, Misses Nell and Leland Boudurant attended the fair in Union City last week.

CAN TURN THEMSELVES OUT

Automatic Door Invented for Releasing Flock Where Poultrymen Forget It on Warm Day.

The accompanying drawing will need but little explanation to active and up-to-date poultrymen. It is needless to say "the early bird catches the worm." We all know that when the fowls are confined any considerable length of time beyond the time of regular releasing they become much worried, which unfits them for best results, writes J. W. Griffin in the Farmers' Review. A frightened or worried hen soon loses interest in egg production and it requires considerable time and great care to get her in proper shape again. Now for fear that you forget to turn the flock from their roosting quarters some warm day, make one of these automatic release doors.

This arrangement is attached to the outside of the building ordinarily where the small drop door is located. This release door should be covered with half-inch mesh wire netting. This will show the hens the light, and they will be induced to reach it. In so doing they will walk over the false bottom, the one to which the trigger wire is attached and her weight will raise the hook that keeps the door in place, the door will swing open and all the flock will be released.

WETS WIN IN MAINE.

Prohibition Leaders Almost Concede Defeat.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—Maine, which for four years more than half a century has been the rock-ribbed stronghold of prohibition, voted to decide whether its constitutional edict, made in 1834, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, shall be repealed.

From 10 of the 16 counties of the state came returns on early voting, indicating the anti-prohibitionists will be counted victorious after one of the bitterest political fights in Maine's history.

From the early vote and from virtual admissions by even prohibitionist leaders and newspapers the repeal of the prohibitory amendment by counties was predicted as follows: Penobscot, Waldo, Kennebec, Androscoggin, Sagadahoc, Knox, York, Cumberland, Franklin and Hancock.

In the early hours the much-mooted "silent vote" failed to materialize. Leaders on both sides, however, say much depends on this "silent vote."

By the same indications, the prohibitionists expected to carry the following counties: Washington, Aroostook, Piscataquis, Somerset and Oxford.

Three Questions Voted On.
Three questions are being decided by Maine:

Shall constitution be amended to abrogate and annul twenty-sixth amendment, prohibiting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors?

Shall constitution be amended to provide that "Augusta is hereby declared to be seat of government of the State?"

Shall all nominations of candidates for state and county offices, including United States senator, congressman and members of state legislature hereafter be made at and by primary elections?

CIRCUS COMING

Sun Bros. Will Be in Hickman, September 18th.

The biggest day of amusement this year in Hickman will take place on Monday Sept. 18. This will be the occasion of the visit of the famous Sun Brothers' World's Progressive Shows. This popular tented exhibition is now on its twentieth annual tour and the insertion is made by the Sun management that the show is richer and newer in all departments. Each succeeding season a new company of artists are engaged for the big top performance. This season all previous efforts are eclipsed. In fact they outshine them all. The Zoologic and Wild Beast display is a mammoth one and serves to introduce the greatest and most select collection seen here in a decade.

The show owns its own special train of magnificent sixty-foot cars, including stable cars, flats, bungalows and animal cars and Pullman sleeping coaches, all of these being elegantly furnished.

Over one hundred men, women and children performers take part in the show. The special, or big display, acts are given by illustrious European and American headliners. The wild beast section is a noteworthy feature and is educative and unusually attractive, with many odd subjects, never before exhibited in America.

From many exchanges at hand, and other reports, the show is a good one, in fact one of the best traveling today in America. The officials and amusement goes generally welcome the Sun Brothers' Show with open arms, because of its great cleanliness and freedom from gamblers, grafters and immoral issues. Two performances will be offered, afternoon and night at the railroad "Y" in West Hickman.

CANAL GETS BIGGEST GUN.

Monter Will Fire 2000 Pound Shot Twenty Miles.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Brig. Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordnance, has under consideration plans for the construction of a carriage for the great 16-inch gun which will be made the keystone of the Panama fortifications. This gun weighs 130 tons.

Consequently its carriages will be one of the largest pieces of work ever undertaken by the ordnance department of the army.

It will be constructed on larger lines than any gun carriage ever constructed, and it is probable a year and a half to two years will be required to complete it. It is designed to have a range of ten miles and ordnance experts estimate that the gun will throw a projectile twenty miles, but as it will be impossible, with the most powerful glasses, to see this distance, it will not be necessary to provide for such a range.

Even if it were possible to see twenty miles it would be impossible to control the fire of the gun at any such range.

The gun may have a power loader with some new appliances for the immense projectiles it will carry. These will weigh about 2,400 pounds each, and it will cost the government about $1,000 every time the big gun is fired.

SUSPECT CHILD'S FATHER

Police Will Recall Parent of Stain Annie Lemberger for Questioning.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—Mystery deepened in the kidnapping and murder of 7-year-old Annie Lemberger, whose body was found by the police. No clue to the slayer has been found and the feeling in the foreign section of the city has been aroused to a high pitch.

The police said that should anyone be arrested they fear a mob would be formed and a lynching started before the prisoner could be tried.

One of the surprises was the announcement that the father of the child is to be recalled before the police inquisition and closely questioned regarding a discrepancy in his statements. The autopsy showed the child had not been mistreated and the theory is that the murder was committed by a degenerate.

CAN TALK OVER MOUNTAIN

Englishman's Wireless Telephone Is Watched With Interest by Government.

London, Sept. 12.—The government is watching with interest the experiments with the aeroplane invented by Mathews, an electrician of national repute. It is held that the voice may be transmitted for a long distance not only through the air, but through or over mountains and other obstacles.

The invention is a wireless contrivance, which is portable. It produces vibrations of such frequency that they are practically continuous. It is said that conversations have been carried on clearly at a distance of five and one-half miles.

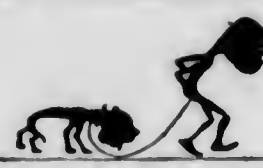

Mathews will next try to talk 25 miles.

Havana, Sept. 12.—Enosio Mendoza, editor of El Combate, made good the name of his paper by killing Roldofo Hernandez, editor of the times de Rumbon. The trouble arose over a newspaper controversy.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A GREAT CORSICAN PATRIOT.

By A. W. MACY.

Napoleon was not the only great man born on the island of Corsica. Pasquale de Paoli, one of the great patriots of history, was a Corsican. For more than two and a half centuries Corsica had been under the control of the Genoese. In 1755, under the leadership of Paoli, she threw off the Genoan yoke. For fourteen years thereafter Paoli administered the affairs of the island, and did it wisely and well. He brought about many reforms, and encouraged commerce and the arts. In 1769, having "purchased" the island from the Genoese, France landed an army of 22,000 soldiers. Paoli with a few thousand Corsicans met them boldly, but was badly defeated. With his little army reduced to 537 men and surrounded by 4,000 French, he cut his way out and escaped to England. The French conquered the island, but at a cost of more than 10,000 men, nearly half of whom were killed. Paoli remained in England twenty years. At the outbreak of the French Revolution he returned to Corsica and became military governor. He soon broke with the French, however, and returned to England, where he died in 1807. Eighty years afterward his ashes were removed to Corsica and reburied with great honors. Lamartine, the eminent French writer, said: "Corsica remains still in the place of a mere province, but Paoli assumes his place among the ranks of great men."

HERBINE offers you the help you need. It destroys the malarial germ, drives out all impurities and makes you feel bright, vigorous and cheerful. Price 50c. Sold by Hickman Drug Co.

It has been suggested that the short street or space between the Hickman Drug store and Halizer & Todd's dry goods store be covered, and used as an arcade or public stopping place for automobiles. The roof could extend from one building to the other, with low eaves on north and south. A more ideal place could not be had for such a purpose, since it is used principally for that purpose now. The auto owners of the city could "climb in" and build this covering for less than $20 each. Of course, this would not in any way interfere with traffic through the place or with sidewalks. This suggestion seems to be a good one. Nobody could be hurt by its consummation, and such a thing is needed badly enough.

LEGS CRUSHED OFF

Negro Falls Under C. M. & G Passenger Train at Phillips.

While stealing a ride on the rods underneath a passenger coach of the C. M. & G. train due at Hickman at 8:30 Thursday night, a negro boy about 18 years old fell and the wheels passed over both legs, crushing them to a pulp. He fell under the wheels just as the train pulled into Phillips, Tenn. His cries attracted people standing around the depot, and he was picked up, put in the baggage car and brought to Hickman.

Dr. Carlin & Carlin found it necessary to amputate both limbs—above the knee and the other just below the knee. His weakness from loss of blood and pain were so great that he died a short time after leaving the operating table.

Before he died, he told Conductor West that his name was Monroe Willy and that his home was Shandy, Tenn., near Holston.

The remains were buried Friday morning in the public burying ground.

The negro is thought to have been trying to get to Hickman.

THE law of nature is that a certain quantity of work is necessary to produce a certain quantity of good of any kind whatever. If you want knowledge, you must toil for it; if food, you must toil for it, and if pleasure, you must toil for it.

Quick Breads.

If there is one thing the normal man does on it is hot breads of all kinds, and it is hard for him to realize that hot bread at every meal is not good for the stomach.

Cereal Breads.—Gems and breads made from cereals are very satisfying and nutritious. They are not expensive and with or without fruit and nuts are good foods.

Corn Bread.—Take a pint of sour milk, one tablespoonful of melted lard, one egg well beaten, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda and cornmeal enough to make a drop batter. Pour into a greased dripping pan and bake for half an hour. This same mixture may be used in muffin pans. A mixture of equal parts of corn meal and flour is better liked by many. When using sweet milk use two teaspoonfuls of baking powder in place of the soda.

Maryland Biscuit.—Sift half a teaspoonful of salt with a quart of flour, then cut into it two tablespoonfuls of butter. Make a stiff dough with a cup of ice water; turn the mixture out on the molding board and beat with the rolling pin for 20 minutes, turning frequently; cut into rounds and bake in a moderate oven. The pounding of the dough incloses air in it and makes it light when expanded by the heat.

Cream Scones.—Mix and sift together two cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt. Rub into the mixture four tablespoonfuls of butter; add two well-beaten eggs and a third of a cup of cream. Toss on a floured board and roll to three-fourths of an inch in thickness. Cut in squares, brush with the white of egg, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a hot oven 15 minutes.

Hominy Gems.—Add a fourth cup of hominy to a half cup of boiling water and stand until the water is absorbed. Add a cup of hot milk, a half teaspoonful of salt to a cup of cornmeal, three tablespoonfuls of butter and three of sugar. Combine mixtures, cool, add two eggs and the two teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted in. Beat well and bake in buttered gem pans.

The Courier's Weekly Sermon
BY PASTOR RUSSELL
SUBJECT

GOD'S KINGDOM IS AT HAND

Messiah's Reign Will, However,
Be Introduced by a Great
Time of Trouble.

Address to International Bible
Students Convention.

Mt. Lake Park, Md., Sept. 10th.—Pastor Russell was the principal speaker today before the International Bible Students Association Convention which has been in session here for more than a week, and has been addressed by many able Bible scholars. Pastor Russell took for his text, Isaiah 11, 2, but included in his discourse the remainder of the chapter.

He declared that in the symbolic language of the Bible, the Mountain of the Lord's House means the Kingdom of the Lord, ruled over by Messiah and His House, the Church. The promise of the text, that some day Messiah will reign over all the kingdoms of earth, the speaker believes will soon be realized. It is for this Kingdom that God's people have for years been praying, "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in heaven."

None of the kingdoms of this world are Messiah's kingdoms, declared Pastor Russell. None of them bear the earmarks of Messiah's Kingdom, outlined in the Bible. They are the kingdoms of this world, ruled by the "rulers of this world," who now work out in the hearts of the children of disobedience. Nevertheless, Messiah's Kingdom will be inaugurated; Satan's Empire or Mountain, dwelling man-made through ignorance and superstition, will be brought to an end. Satan will be bound for a thousand years, while Messiah's Kingdom, equally invincible, will dominate the world, chasing away ignorance and superstition and lifting the whole world with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord.

The Kingdom Israelitish. The speaker declared that the Bible everywhere shows that Messiah's invisible Kingdom will be represented amongst mankind by princely characters of the Jewish race, who will be restricted to human perfection for this very work. Instead of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and the Prophets being any longer the Fathers, they will be the children—the first-born children of Messiah in the full perfection of human nature. The Church, the Bride of Christ, is not, declared the Pastor, scripturally known as children of Messiah. In perfect accord is the text, "Thou art my Father, even God;" and again, "The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ who hath begotten Crawling Into the Rocks.

Discouraging on other features of the chapter, Pastor Russell called attention to the fact that the words declare a judgment of the nations. In the time of trouble which will then over throw Society, financial, political, social and religious, the nations will be so chastened by war that thereafter "Their swords will be converted into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks," and the study of war will be at an end. Pastor Russell surmised that this great time of trouble will result from anarchism, which he believes will invade the armies of the world and turn them against the very powers which organized and armed them.

All were cautioned to avoid, so far as possible, having any sympathy with the anarchistic spirit, in harmony with God's Message to His people, "Wait ye upon Me, saith the Lord." In other words, do not attempt to force to fight present wrongs, either submit and give the matter over to God's hands.

The Prophet Isaiah, said the Pastor, calls attention to the identity of wealth, silver and gold—and indicates that such identity will entirely pass away in the great time of trouble with which Messiah's reign of righteousness will be inaugurated—"The most reign will be both put all vintages under His feet." In the shakings of the great time of trouble, many people will be in perplexity, and will crawl into the caves and dens of the earth, and the cliffs of the rocks. Pastor Russell quoted Revelation vi, 15-17. He interpreted the dens and caves and rocks to signify political and social fastnesses, insurance and confidence. He declared that many are already in fear and are hiding themselves, as described in this Scripture, although the great storm has not yet broken, and what of break out in its severity for a few years yet, probably not before 1915.

The End Will Be Glorious.

In the end it will be seen that the Divine perfection of the reign of God and death in the earth, instead of being a blot upon Divine character and a demonstration of Divine unwisdom and incompetence, will reveal the great Creator to His subjects, his children, as nothing else could have done.

The speaker closed with an exhortation that his hearers remember the words of Jesus, "Watch ye, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things coming upon the world and to stand before the Son of Man."

THE TIME TEST.

Hickman People Cannot Demand Stronger Proof of Merit.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public is quick to discover misrepresentations and merit alone will stand the test of time. Long ago many grateful people in this locality publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would these statements be confirmed if Doan's Kidney Pills did not possess lasting merit? The following testimony should convince the most skeptical Hickman reader.

Mrs. George Combs, Cedar st., Fulton, Ky., says: "For some time I suffered from backache and weakness across my loins. Any over exertion aggravated my trouble and at times I could hardly work. There were other annoyances due to weak kidneys. A member of my family found wonderful benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and induced me to try them. He procured a box for me and I began their use. In a few days I noticed a change for the better and after I had finished the contents of the box the backache and all other distressing symptoms of my trouble had completely disappeared." (From statement given in 1903.)

A PERMANENT CURE

On May 15, 1907, Mrs. Combs confirmed the above statement, saying: "I have never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I gave a public statement, recommending them in May, 1903. I advise anyone suffering from kidney trouble or backache to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."
